Tax For County General Purposes Reduced At Final Session Of Board

A reduction of approximately $75,000 in county taxes was effected when the county board in its final session Saturday morning voted a tax levy of $675,735.72, as compared with $750,631.61 last year.

The levy includes the county school tax, the state tax, state special charges on the county and state special charges on school districts, the 2 mill highway tax, the tax for general county purposes, the tax for retirement of bonds and interest and taxes for miscellaneous purposes.

State taxes assessed against this county were $10,000 below those of the preceding year. Appleton's proportion of the county taxes will be greater than the percentage of last year, for the percentage was raised from 31.90 to 33.18. Appleton supervisors protested this equalization and although others were dissatisfied with the report of the equalization committee, the board considered adjustments at this time practically out of the question.

HALVE BRIDGE TAX
The county bridge tax was cut almost in half at a saving of nearly $8,000. Almost $8,000 was pared off the county and town aid road levy of last year. The indigent soldiers appropriation was increased from $600 to $1,000. The mothers pension fund was decreased from $22,000 to $20,000. Retirement of highway bonds and interest is approximately $45,000 less than last year. This year's appropriation being $115,600. But retirement of soldier bonus bonds was increased about $16,000 to $49,554. The appropriation for the county school superintendent's office was increased from $4,725 to $5,000 plus $2,183.97 for extra allowance and an overdraft.

The county nurse's salary was raised from $1,500 to $1,800, and the

Mussolini Has No Objections To Recognition Of Soviet Republic

Rome—Premier Mussolini informed the chamber of deputies Friday evening that Italy raised "no difficulty regarding de jure recognition of the Soviet government," believing that all nations would sooner or later have to resume relations with Russia, either directly or indirectly and that from an economic standpoint it would be to Italy's advantage to do so.

The premier intimated that in return for recognition the Russian government would be asked to "grant a concrete equivalent, namely a good commercial treaty and concessions for the raw materials of which Italy stands in great need."

Columbus—One week ago, sturdy Ohio State football heroes were giving their best to repel the onslaught of the championship Illinois team. Saturday, these same Ohio State players are polished floor walkers, managers of the ladies' suit and millinery department and overseers of the women's bargain counter.

"Hogs" Workman, brilliant Ohio State half, is selling boys' suits; Frank Young, captain elect of the 1924 team, blossomed forth as a floor walker; Captain Petroff of this year's team, Pete Honaker, fullback and Klee and Southern, halfbacks, are floor managers.

Sorority "sisters" are not presiding over the coffee urn at a formal reception Saturday but instead are selling ribbons, cosmetics and hairpins.

From basement to top floor, from receiving room to office, as heads of departments and salespeople, more than one hundred picked Ohio State students of the department of commerce are in complete control of one of Columbus' large department stores, carrying forward on a strictly business basis every detail of the enterprise.

Instructors of the commerce department of the university said that this is the first time such a practical experiment in store management by university students has ever been attempted.

Chicago—In the "big" hostesses to the members of the National Woman's party, Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, formerly Ganna Walska, Polish grand opera singer, Friday affiliated herself with the movement to secure equal rights for women. Although she expressed no opinion she took a keen interest in the remarks of speakers who outlined the Woman's Party program: elimination of sex discrimination in government business and society; equal pay for women for equal work; equal rights after marriage and equal moral standards.

Mrs. McCormick is a life member of the party and is chairman of its maintenance committee. She is actively participating in the party's move to secure the adoption of a constitutional amendment which will remove all legal barriers from the way of a complete equality between the sexes.

Republicans Proceed On Assumption That Re-election Is Unnecessary

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C.—Formal conferences of Republicans of the house and senate were called Saturday for the purpose of perfecting their party organization in advance of the convening of the sixty-eighth congress at noon Monday.

The party leaders in the senate have made known their intention not to take up the question of senate reorganization but to proceed on the assumption that the senate already is organized and that re-election of its officers is unnecessary.

There was little business to come before the conference. The general belief was that Senator Lodge of Massachusetts would be re-elected leader and Senator Curtis of Kansas re-elected vice chairman of the conference and party whip. While committee assignments may be discussed they are actually to be made by the committee on committees of which Senator Brandegee of Connecticut probably will be chairman.

House Republicans at their conference planned to elect Representative Longworth of Ohio their leader and to renominate Speaker Gillett despite the insistence of members of the Progressive group that they would seek to prevent election of Mr. Gillett, thereby delaying organization of the house if their demands for recognition are turned down.

Former Militant Suffragette Assumes Role Of Evangelist In Chicago

By Associated Press

Chicago—In a London book shop while turning the leaves of an old bible, a determination came to Christabel Pankhurst, militant suffragist war worker and political leader, to teach the scripture as the divine solution for human ills. Miss Pankhurst, who begins a series of lectures on biblical prophecy here Saturday, Friday told of her change from fighter to evangelist.

"As I turned the leaves," she said, "I came across writing of prophecy, foretelling and diagnosing the world's ills and promising that they shall be cured."

"Up to that time I had taken the bible prophecies no more seriously than a great many other people. I had simply ignored them and I never dreamed they had any bearing on the world problems of our time: heavy taxation, economic difficulties, social tragedies and international perplexities."

Secretary Wallace Studies Two Proposals To Produce Cheap Fertilizer For Agricultural Relief

By David Lawrence

Copyright 1923 By the Post Pub. Co. Washington—Bills are being drafted at the department of agriculture, which, if acceptable to congress and Henry Ford, may mean cheap fertilizers for the American farmer at an early date.

Secretary Wallace said Friday that he had been studying two plans for the operation of Muscle Shoals and that one provided for government operation and the other for several amendments to the Ford offer. It is intended to introduce the amendments to the Ford offer. It is intended to introduce the amendments to the Ford offer. It is intended to introduce the amendments to the Ford offer.

The program, which has not yet been submitted to President Coolidge by the department of agriculture, would provide for the separation of the Muscle Shoals proposition in two parts, the one relating to power being placed in the regular lease category under the federal water power act. The other part would provide for a contract whereby, in return for certain guarantees concerning the production of fertilizer, the government would permit a cheaper rate of power to be charged. This in effect would be a subsidy to whoever operated the fertilizer plant.

U. S. EMPLOYEE

STAMP THEFTS

Confession Reveals 20 Year Fraud Involving $75,000 Of Government Money

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C.—A confession that he had systematically robbed the postoffice department of stamps valued at approximately $75,000 after nearly 25 years in its service, has been obtained, according to federal officials, from Herman C. Davis.

Davis is at liberty under $5,000 bond fixed Friday by United States Commissioner George H. MacDonald, after he had signed the confession and offered restitution in part. In his sworn statement which was submitted to Frank Kelley, assistant United States attorney, he admitted having planned the thefts carefully and carried them on for four years.

His work on a committee charged with destroying damaged stamps returned to the department, the confession asserts, enabled him to take them and then swear to their destruction.

Through a mail order business he conducted here several years ago under the financial name of Arthur Stanley and Co., which sold a patent medicine and received stamps in payment, he said he arranged to sell the stamps to Henry Flachmann, proprietor of C. E. Hussmann and Co., of St. Louis for 75 per cent of their face value.

When arrested, Davis declared he had about $20,000 on deposit in two Washington banks and owned real estate and securities valued at a considerable amount.

Reds Expected To Register Vote Of "No Confidence" In Near Future

By Associated Press

Berlin—The new cabinet under Dr. Wilhelm Marx as chancellor, completed Friday night, is likely to be subjected shortly to a test before the Reichstag. That body probably will meet next Tuesday and it is expected the government will immediately face the introduction by the Communists and perhaps also by the Socialists of "no confidence" votes, according to the parliamentary forecast of the Lokal Anzeiger Saturday.

This newspaper observes that the Marx cabinet is as much like the Stresemann ministry as one egg is like another and finds it difficult to understand why a whole week was wasted in what it calls "useless turmoil" over the evolution of such a government as now has been constituted. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, organ of Hugo Slinnes, takes much the same view, declaring Dr. Stresemann might as well have remained chancellor. This newspaper thinks that inclusion of two more Marxians, Herr Hamm and Dr. Emminger will have little effect in bridging the differences between Munich and Berlin, while the socialist Vorwarts feels that their presence in the cabinet may actually endanger the cabinet's position.

The organs of the right, apparently seeing the pendulum swinging from the new ministry. Even Vorwarts, refrains from adverse comment, waiving its concessions that the future lies with the attitude of the nationalists.

There is a strenuous agitation going on at present, he asserted, in favor of cancelling or reducing the debts of foreign countries to the United States. From the viewpoint of the United States the proposition would appear to be preposterous, he said.

"Most of us remember clearly what took place and what was said during the war by those who borrowed money," he said.

"We remember how urgent they were; how profuse in promises, how grateful for accommodations. It is difficult to believe there is a change of sentiment."

Premier Poincare Expected Hughes To Dally With Former Proposals

MIGHT MAKE CONCESSION

Washington Opposed To Permanent Interference In Affairs Of Old World

Paris—An invitation to the United States to appoint members to each of the two committees which are to investigate German finances has been forwarded to Washington by Colonel James A. Logan on behalf of the reparations commission.

According to information in reparations circles, the principal reason why the door was left open by the reparations commission for the American government to be represented on the committee was that the French, British, Italian and Belgian governments were agreed that American money would be essential to any reasonable plan for restoration of the German financial system.

Premier Poincare, it is declared, did not expect Secretary of State Hughes to refuse so quickly the conditions insisted upon by France for the originally proposed inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay reparations. M. Poincare had thought, it is said, that a period of negotiations would take place in which France would be prepared to go much further in the direction of the American views, providing some concessions were made regarding reparations to England and the United States.

Guard Over Mrs. Otto Malm Strengthened After Futile Hanging Effort

By Associated Press

Chicago—Extra guards Saturday are watching Mrs. Katherine Baluk, also known as Mrs. Otto Malm, held for the slaying of Edward Lehman, a watchman, after her attempt Friday night at a police station to strangle herself with a bed sheet. Matrons discovered her hanging from a water pipe in a washroom and revived her.

In two notes she had written before the attempt, she urged her mother to take care of her sister and advised Otto Malm, also held in connection with the killing, to put the blame on her and then he might go free. She begged him, if free, to look after her two-year-old child.

Meanwhile the police continue to hold Walter Beckelmann, accused of the killing by his alleged accomplice Ethel Beck, who has since repudiated her confession. The grand jury meeting next week will determine whether Malm and Katherine Baluk or Beckelmann and the Beck girl are responsible for Lehman's death.

Menominee—Menominee county's first fatality of the present hunting season occurred late Friday when Xavier Pichette, 15, of this city was instantly killed while hunting rabbits with Harry Beyer, 22.

Pichette was standing in a pile of brush waiting for a shot when he rested his gun against a log. Both barrels were discharged. The entire load struck his body near the heart and continuing upward, tearing off one side of his face.

Beyer, who was about 100 yards away, hurried to the scene and found his chum dead with his clothing on fire. He left the body and traveled seven miles to Menominee to notify officials. A searching party of 30 men returned with Beyer to the woods but failed to locate the body in the dark and abandoned the search at midnight.

The body was found Saturday forenoon while a searching party of 25 men marched through the swamp about twenty feet apart. A beagle rabbit dog had refused to leave his master and was found holding watch over the body when the party found it.

SUPERVISORS HELP TWO FAIRS BUT WISH THERE WAS BUT ONE

Board Requests Hortonville And Seymour Fair Officers To Talk Consolidation

Consolidation of Hortonville and Seymour fairs was encouraged by the county board of supervisors Friday morning after making the annual appropriations for the Seymour fair and Hortonville fair associations and the Outagamie County Agricultural Society. Officers of both associations were requested to get together with the aim of combining and bringing about a larger and better fair for the county.

An appropriation of $3,500 was made for the Seymour fair and $1,750 for the Hortonville fair. The combined appropriation of $5,250 for the two fairs is about the same as the two fairs separately. The Seymour fair has been in existence for 39 years and has held 6 fairs. During that time it has grown from almost nothing to an institution with real estate assets amounting to $35,000. The cost of replacing the buildings would be vastly greater, he said. Improvements in the sum of $14,172 were made last year. The fair has liabilities amounting to $3,390. With the aid of the county improvement fund, the association last year was able to stage the most successful fair in its history and one that compared favorably with any of the surrounding county fairs.

The appropriation was passed with but debate and George F. Fiedler, county chairman, who also is secretary of the Seymour fair and Dennis Pack, association, extended an invitation to the county supervisors to attend the fair, promising them that every courtesy would be tendered them while in attendance. Supervisor Frank R. Appleton of Oneida responded with praises for the fair and declared he will be there again next year. Supervisor Beck changed the board for the appropriation.

A resolution for appropriating $1,750 for the Hortonville fair was introduced by Supervisor Charles Schulz of Hortonville, one of the officers of the Outagamie County Agricultural Society.

JANSEN OBJECTS

Although this appropriation was nearly $50 less than last year's appropriation, Supervisor Anton Jansen expressed the opinion that $1,750 was too much. He said he feared the Hortonville fair last year for the first time and was surprised at the smallness of the exhibits and the poor condition of most of the buildings. Since every appropriation is made with the understanding that a certain portion is to be used for improvement of buildings, Mr. Jansen asked what had been done with the money that was granted last year.

Supervisor Schulz replied that $500 was held over until next year so that, added to the next appropriation, it would help toward erecting new stables. He said he did not begrudge the Seymour fair association for receiving a larger appropriation but was pleased that they received it for it tends more on account of maintaining a race course which is lacking at the Hortonville fair. The exhibits at the latter fair last year were not as large as those of former years, he said, because of the unprosperous season. A number of farmers said the fire on the fair grounds last year had consumed a great share of the equipment. The fair, nevertheless, paid as much in premiums as the Seymour fair, he said.

The new enterprise is a joint venture with Plank & Jacob, who are also publishers of the Daily News and Times.

$55,000 ASSETS

Supervisor William Beck, of Seymour, one of the fair officials, introduced the resolution for appropriating $3,500 for the Seymour fair. He said that the association has been in existence for 39 years and has held 6 fairs. During that time it has grown from almost nothing to an institution with real estate assets amounting to $35,000. The cost of replacing the buildings would be vastly greater, he said. Improvements in the sum of $14,172 were made last year. The fair has liabilities amounting to $3,390. A resolution for appropriating $1,750 for the Hortonville fair was introduced by Supervisor Charles Schulz of Hortonville, one of the officers of the Outagamie County Agricultural Society.

EXPLAIN VOTE

Following the ballot in which 19 voted for the appropriation and 17 against, Supervisor William Beck of Hortonville stated that although he voted for the appropriation, inasmuch as he did not wish to "shut a man out at this time," he still believes that some effort should be made toward effecting a combination of the fairs. Supervisor F. A. Grant, Grand Chase, who also voted for the resolution, said that while the fair is a very good exposition considering the grounds, he hoped that a combination is possible and that the name of Outagamie County fair would be transferred to the larger fair at Seymour. Supervisor Harwood made the motion requesting that the officers of both fairs get together for a combination. He added that he is not prejudiced against the Hortonville fair, but informed us officers that the vote on the appropriation showed that the board does not encourage two fairs.

OPEN MUFFLERS ON CARS PROHIBITED. NEW COUNTY LAW

Automobile Regulatory Law Passed By Board Without Dissenting Vote

The county motor vehicle ordinance which was introduced in the county board of supervisors last week by the ordinance committee is now law. It was passed without a dissenting vote during the last few minutes of the Friday afternoon session.

Only a few changes were made, the most important of which is the provision that every motor vehicle must have a modern and approved muffler and that it must not be left open while driving on any city street or rural highway.

Supervisor William Rohan asked whether the ordinance was clear enough in prohibiting motor buses from obstructing traffic on highways. John A. Lonsford, district attorney, who assisted the committee in drafting the ordinance replied that the law requires motorbuses when stopping to discharge or take on passengers to give enough clearance to allow free passage of other vehicles.

DEFINES SPEED LIMITS

The ordinance defines the speed limit at 15 miles an hour in cities, 20 miles an hour in communities with scattered houses and 30 miles an hour on rural highways. The penalty for speeding is a fine of $5 to $100 or imprisonment from 5 to 30 days.

The greater part of the Friday morning and afternoon sessions was occupied by passage of numerous resolutions for highway appropriations, previously recommended by the highway committee and adopted by the county board. The $12,000 appropriation for paving a part of highway 15 in Kaukauna was made conditional. The pavement is to be on Draper or on any other street that the state highway commission determines. The board Friday afternoon requested the highway commission to route 15 over Black and Wisconsin streets, as was originally planned.

A transfer of $6,242.99 from the highway fund surplus was authorized to finance the paving of a part of Dodge, Kaukauna, a part of the old town of highway 15.

HELP PATROL FUND

Another transfer of $5,000 from the highway funds was authorized in order to replenish the depleted county patrol fund. The board also appropriated $2,000 for the removal of snow this winter on the Asylum and Sanatorium roads. A paving project on county trunk line E, or the Little Chute road, was backed with an appropriation of $14,000. Two appropriations of $5,000 and $5,225.40 respectively were made to meet state aid for paving Lemnawau street, Appleton, a link of highway 15.

A CHEVROLET CAR AT YOUR PHONE

A most unique stunt was put over the last two days by the Fox River Chevrolet Co., 834-836 College Ave. They wanted every person in Appleton to know how easy the Chevrolet Cars ride, and how easily they can be handled in traffic, so for the past two days have had a fleet of cars on the streets carrying banners reading "Ride Free" and so that every one would know about their offer took a full page ad in the Wednesday Post-Crescent.

The people certainly availed themselves of this opportunity according to Mr. Craig, who said they were simply swamped with calls and he believes that every man and woman in Appleton rode in a Chevrolet.

The driverless Chevrolet Car at Morrison and Washington Streets running in a circle without a driver attracted a very large number of spectators, and one man said if a Chevrolet would run without a driver he wanted one.

BLOOMER FINISHES ROAD JOB IN WAUKESHA-CO

The John F. Bloomer Construction company has completed its 10 mile concrete paving project on state trunk highway 41 in Waukesha co. for which it had received the contract earlier in the season. The work was finished last week.

The modern gravel plant equipment owned by the contractors who manufactured their own gravel was largely instrumental in the completion of the work in record breaking time. This new highway, which is an important link in the through route between Milwaukee and Madison will be opened to traffic in about two more weeks, it was announced by the company Friday.

Jackie Coogan as Prince in "Long Live the King"

First Picture Under $1,500,000 Contract Promises to Be Lavish Production

The long heralded Metro production, "Long Live the King," starring Jackie Coogan, will come to the Fischer's Appleton. Particular interest is attached to this latest film of the young star as it is his first production under the $1,500,000 contract which was given him recently in addition to a half million dollar bonus by Metro Pictures Corporation.

"Long Live the King" was only recently completed at Hollywood and its engagement at Fischer's Appleton Theater is among the early dates allotted to a few houses throughout the country. From various sources the information was current that a huge sum of money was being spent in the making of this film and recent reports definitely fix the sum as $500,000. Of this huge amount nearly two-thirds was spent on the construction of the magnificent sets which furnish the atmosphere of "Long Live the King" and which surround Jackie with regal splendor.

As is known to millions of readers, "Long Live the King" was adapted for Jackie from Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel of the same name. The plot is set in the mythical Balkan kingdom of Lavenia and hinges around the escapades of the little Crown Prince (played by Jackie), who is beset by a band of terrorists who threaten to seize the government. The book is fascinatingly told, filled with romance and excitement aplenty. The producers of the film version of "Long Live the King" have retained these essentials of a good romance and Jackie is said to have the greatest role of his career as the adventurous Prince Coogan.

"Long Live the King" was directed by Victor Schertzinger from the adaptation by C. Gardner Sullivan and Eve Unsell.

Popular Band Coming This Week

Al Sweet's Singing Band, which recently scored the biggest hit ever known in one of the big motion picture theatres of Chicago will be the extra attraction at Fischer's Appleton Theater in connection with the regular picture offering, starting Monday, and one of the musical and jazz treats of the season may be anticipated.

Al Sweet's Singing Band is a band and a male chorus, being a group of carefully selected instrumentalists who are vocalists. The singing of the young men is excellent and the instrumental numbers beyond compare. Al Sweet, who made the leading Edison records as a cornet soloist, is with the organization in person.

Al Sweet's Singing Band is made up of artists from an operatic point of view and jazz hounds from a more popular viewpoint. Both in their instrumental numbers and in their vocal efforts they run the gamut of classics to ragtime. There is an overture of a classic or a semi-classic nature on every program, a medley of the latest popular airs, a combination number in which Al Sweet reviews his experience in circus parades for he was the director of the band with Ringling Brothers for several years and a double quartette and yodling by a single vocalist.

JACKIE COOGAN in "LONG LIVE THE KING"

Costumed in hussar uniform the members of the organization make an imposing appearance and entertainment could scarcely be imagined which would surpass that which is provided.

BELIEVES PUBLIC WANTS ONLY BIGGEST STORIES

Thinks Production Trends Towards Popular Books and Plays

"The forthcoming months will prove," says Al Lieberman, well known film distributor who is president of Preferred Pictures, "that the motion picture public favors decidedly the literary property that has found favor in another medium before it reaches the screen."

"I have always been of the opinion that while the original screen story has its place, the one that has gained universal popularity in book or play is the one that the picture fan is the most interested in and usually feels the most repaid for seeing."

CITES EXAMPLE

"The trend of producers right now, urged on by distributors who are recognizing more clearly every day this tendency on the part of the public, is toward the choice of famous stories that have registered the approval of readers and play-goers. Preferred Pictures, consequently, will release in the near future fifteen of the best known stories and stage plays available. The first of these is 'The Broken Wing,' which combines all the necessary elements for a first class picture—humor, pathos and thrills—in addition to being one of the most popular plays ever staged on Broadway. 'The Broken Wing' is coming to Fischer's Appleton Theater. Screen favorites in the cast will interest every fan include Kenneth Harlan, Marjann Cooper, Walter Long, Miss Du Pont and Edwin J. Brady."

Good Comedy Vaudeville Bill Sunday

In order to maintain the quality vaudeville entertainment that has been established at Fischer's Appleton Theater, Manager Helah has again arranged a good comedy program.

Hebert and Kaufman in a Musical Act quite out of the ordinary. Bert and Pauline Hall in Comedy, Songs and Talk. Harry Devera the clever "Wop" Comedian in a skit entitled "Fun in Italy." Walter and Mae Sigfried in a Comedy Sketch. Carl De Lorto, the funny man with the Fiddle in his offering "Fiddlesticks" and "The Pearsons' sensational trapeze performers with aerial surprises round out a well balanced program.

"KID" MCCOY ACTING

"Kid" McCoy, hero of a thousand battles—pugilistic and domestic—used his experience in the interest of Tom Forman's screen version of "April Showers," the Preferred Picture. McCoy says that camera drama is far more satisfactory than either of the other two activities to which he has lent his talents in the past.

Manager Helah says there is no end of the big and popular picture productions coming to Fischer's Appleton. Among the early attractions are the following: "The Broken Wing," Thomas Meighan in "Woman Proof," "April Showers," "His Children's Children," "Mothers-in-Law," "Ruggles of Red Gap," "To the Last Man" Gloria Swanson in "Zaza" and many others.

This picture shows, for the first time, how the Shenandoah looks moored to a specially built mast at Lakehurst, N. J. Meeting of the big ship was the first feat of its kind to be accomplished by American airmen.

GILLINGWATER IN STRONG ROLE IN NEW DRAMA

"A Chapter in Her Life" comes to Fischer's Appleton Theater Monday.

The cast is of all-star calibre, directed by Lois Weber, foremost feminine director.

Claude Gillingwater, famous on both stage and screen, plays the chief masculine role, as Ervinham. So, a doughty old figure that readers of the book love, Jane Mercer, eleven-year-old "find" of Miss Weber's, plays the title role in the picture.

Robert Frazier, Mae Murray's leading man in many pictures, Jacqueline Gadsden, Frances Raymond, Evelyn Thatcher, Ralph Yearsley, Beth Rayon, Vernon Steele and Fred Thomson handle other roles.

In order that the inspiring element of "A Chapter in Her Life," which has revived hope in thousands in the printed word, would be retained in the picture, Miss Weber wrote her own screen continuity.

The people of Appleton will be pleased to learn of an early play date for "The Cat and The Canary," which has had a long run in Chicago and New York. This great mystery drama, said to exceed "The Bat" in intense interest, will play at Fischer's Appleton in January.

REGULATING DANCE HALLS
The county board, by adopting an ordinance regulating dance halls in the county, has provided a means of checking one of the most far-reaching abuses and demoralizing influences of the age. Stories of wild orgies, of drunken debauches, of girls attacked, of moonshine and other illicit liquor flowing freely at unregulated dance halls have at least received recognition from the supervisors. The ordinance adopted by the board, closely resembling similar laws in adjacent counties, places responsibility for maintaining proper decorum upon the proprietor of the dance halls. The proprietor or manager must secure a license before he can permit dancing in his hall. Dance supervisors, whose salaries are paid by the license fees, are appointed by members of the county board, will attend every dance with instructions to report violation of the law, promiscuous drinking about the place and untoward conduct of dancers or attendants. The supervisors may recommend that licenses be refused to dance halls where offenses are condoned, therefore it behooves the proprietors or managers to maintain respect for law and order if they wish to continue in their business. Passage of the ordinance, however, will not bring about the desired results unless there is an honest effort at enforcement. Dance supervisors who will not shut their eyes to abuses, who will not listen to blandishments and who are in sympathy with honest regulation must be appointed. The responsibility for enforcement rests upon those authorities who will appoint the supervisors and who have the power of revoking licenses. If the ordinance appears to the dance hall proprietors to be excessively restrictive and financially burdensome he has only himself to blame. The debauches, the orgies, the drunkenness prevailing at many of the rural dances and at roadhouses have forced self-respecting people to drastic measures to protect themselves and their children. The dance halls sowed the seed of debauchery; now they are reaping a crop of restriction.

THE BONUS AND TAX REDUCTION
Members of both the Republican and Democratic parties in the national senate and house seem to welcome, some openly, some secretly, the recommendation of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for a reduction of taxes. We may assume that the public, also openly and secretly, takes kindly to the suggestion. Usually, it appeared to be held on the Mellon's part to take a determined stand on the matter of taxation, as the question involves that of the soldiers' bonus. However, it should be remembered that Mr. Mellon has been consistent, for a recent statement is but a repetition of what he has been saying since he has been in charge of the treasury department. His address had, nevertheless, the backing of his knowledge of human nature. Mr. Mellon is a successful banker and business man, and he is well aware that nothing disgruntles a poor, rich and poor, so much as paying taxes. He could safely assure himself that his proposal, though it might at first be received coolly, would soon have the hearty and pretty general support. Take a squirt at congress, and hundreds of ears to the ground. The gentlemen near the demand for a bonus and they bear the demand for lower taxes. They will be expected to pass a bonus law and reduce taxes. Both they could not do. The Mellon suggestion sounds promising. Taxes can be reduced, and then, if federal income increases, they can grant a bonus to the soldiers. As for the bonus there is a pronounced difference of opinion. That is, there is a difference of opinion as to whether the government could pay a bonus which would be large enough to do the veterans much good. Without discussing the merits of the bonus plan at all, but considering only the question of lowering taxes, there is no uncertainty whatever that Mr. Mellon's general idea will accumulate approval. After all, the first duty of the government, and it is a duty which the government has not fulfilled as it should, is to do the right thing for the disabled and incapacitated veterans of the World War. There is not a legionnaire in the land who would say anything else. Human nature expounds Mr. Mellon's recommendation in principle. The majority of the people favors, openly or secretly, lower taxes.

FILIPINO FREEDOM
The Chicago Tribune, one of the leading scholars for American abandonment of the Philippines, has discovered that a reservation must be made when we withdraw. "Certainly," says the Tribune, "the Americans who are in the islands because they have American government should not be surrendered without protective agreements to the mores of a native government which might be destructive of their property and rightful interests." That is one of the very good reasons we should stay in the Philippines until the Filipinos are educated to self-government. Another is that we took the islands away from Spain on the principle that Spain was governing them improperly, and it is still a matter of self-respect for us that they shall not be turned out to freedom until they are ready to justify historically our action of twenty-five years ago. The more arguments offered by backers of immediate Philippine independence, the more gratified the average American must be that Leonard Wood is still on the job.

AUTOMOBILES AND SPENDING MONEY
Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, president of the university of Missouri, has written a letter to parents, asking them not to furnish automobiles to students. "There is probably no one thing," he says, "more detrimental to success in university work than the possession of an automobile." He adds that "an unusually large proportion of students having automobiles fail to graduate." Further, he suggests limiting the monthly spending-money remittance to something like seventy-five dollars. All parents will not accept the request with the best of grace, but all of them should. If a parent set about to contrive the best way to make his son's university or college work count for nothing and to start the young man on the downward grade he could do nothing better than to send him off to school loaded down with money and an automobile. A student who is not a scholar does not make for character and self-reliance. It is the tradition of more young men today than the public, than even fathers and mothers, are aware. School luxury is generally dissipation, neglected studies and unimpaired stability. The automobile is a good thing, but the chief cause of a worse than wasted college career. How any parent can start a boy of 16 or 17 to college with an automobile at his disposal is a mystery for his wisdom is more than we can understand. The president of the University of Missouri is a great man. He has the courage to speak out against growing college extravagance. He is right. Let us have led the country to stand up with him.

WHY DO WE SLEEP?
As already mentioned, the mystery of mental sleep seems impossible to solve because investigation of the phenomenon can be carried only so far without waking the subject. The physiology of sleep is therefore only partly known, yet it is worth while for everybody who ever has occasion to sleep to know the physiology of sleep as far as it goes. Most human tissues, the glands particularly, have alternating periods of activity and rest. When metabolism (the oxidation or combustion process of life) is reduced below the level necessary to cause consciousness or mental activity, sleep occurs. Consciousness is completely lost according to the depth of sleep. The most profound or sound sleep is about an hour after the beginning—at this time it requires the loudest noise to awaken the sleeper. The first few hours of sleep are most refreshing, the later hours of sleep are more shallow and less refreshing. In the early morning there is a twilight zone when consciousness is only half lost; it is then that many persons have dreams of spirits and other phantasms which, when they presently emerge into fuller consciousness, they will swear they really saw.

In sleep the eyeballs roll upward and outward. The breathing is slower and deeper and more costal (upper ribs than in waking condition; usually a periodical increase and decrease of the breathing is noticed, resembling what is called Cheyne-Stokes breathing in certain pathological states of coma. Pulse rate decreases by 10 to 20 beats to the minute. Blood pressure falls from 10 to 40 millimeters of mercury. The volume of the brain diminishes. Blood in the brain, less pressure, an important factor in the relief of headache at the same time the volume (circumference and weight) of the limbs increases, because more blood is distributed to the surface and extremities. The constant secretions—such as the urine, the tears and the mucus from the glands of the nose and throat—diminish. Dryness of the eyes, prompting rubbing of the eyes, is a familiar indication of sleepiness. When sleep sets in the power of conscious movement is lost first, and the auditory sensibility last; when the individual begins to awaken he becomes conscious of sound and sensation before he recovers the power of voluntary movement. In children with a normal period of 12 or 14 hours of sleep, besides the first period of deepest sleep which comes an hour or two after the beginning of sleep, there is a second period of deeper sleep toward morning. Some adults resemble children in this respect, particularly adults whose greatest mental activity comes toward evening and who are least efficient in the early part of the day. Night-hawks therefore lie abed in the forenoon, when human folks are up and doing. Hate to go to bed, and hate to get up. What makes us sleep? That's the mystery. One theory credits the accumulation of acid waste products such as lactic acid in muscles. This theory harmonizes with the idea that honest work or exercise favors sleep. Next theory attributes sleep to reduction of oxygen supply to brain cells below the level necessary for conscious activity. Another postulates some specific toxin. Another assumes anemia of the brain, or diminished blood flow in the brain; this fits well with common schemes of wooing sleep. We'll examine some of these theories and see whether they have any practicable use.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Radium and Birthmarks
Is it true that radium eradicates birthmarks? If so, where should one go to have it done, and about how much does it cost?—A. K. C.
Answer—Sometimes radium treatment is satisfactory. Go to a physician who specializes in skin disease. Your physician will recommend one for you. The cost should be about the same as the cost of ordinary medical or surgical treatment. There is no particular reason why radium treatment should be very expensive.
The New Aluminum Kettle
I want to know whether cooking fruit, vegetables or meats in aluminum ware, or keeping foods in such ware overnight, makes the food unfit to eat or dangerous.—Mrs. S. V. W.
Answer—No; aluminum ware is all right to cook or keep any kind of food in.

LOOKING BACKWARD
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Saturday, December 3, 1898
F. Strauss was to entertain a group of friends the following evening. A twelve-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leist. Four tramps applied for lodging at the police station the previous night. A live bird shoot was held at the fair grounds at which Willis Babb carried off the honors. Country roads were reported to be in excellent condition. The Northwestern Railway company and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company were advertising holiday rates of one fare and a third for the round trip. Peerenboom & Wosher were offering special inducements in overcoats for men and boys. An enormous amount of merchandise was arriving in Appleton daily in anticipation of a heavy holiday trade. Casper Griesbach of the town of Center sold his farm of 120 acres to Fred Peters for a consideration of $4,300. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ullman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ullman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hammel, Mrs. F. Hammel, Mrs. Rosa Ullman and Joseph Ullman attended the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heinemann of Wausau. John West severed his connection with the Continental and commenced work at Arnold Peerenboom's store. Whorton's Christmas hangings were being distributed.

TEN YEARS AGO
Saturday, November 29, 1913
Harold Shannon of Green Bay visited Appleton relatives. A. G. Brusewitz and son Clarence of Cicero called on Appleton friends. Attorney Francis J. Rooney was to deliver an address before the Federation of Catholic Societies at Antigo the day following. H. Ruth of Chicago, formerly of Appleton, was spending the weekend with friends here. Mrs. W. E. Morton of Marinette was the guest of her father, J. S. Wunderlich, and sister, Mrs. Anton Ritter. Application for a marriage license was made to the county clerk by John Soffa of New London and Miss Rachel Koheny of Appleton. Mrs. J. K. Ellis and son Earl, who left Guinn, Mich., during the previous summer, and passed through Appleton on their way to New Orleans in a canoe, reached their destination. A provisional organization looking toward the founding of a Civil League in Appleton, for the purpose of studying social problems and terminating ultimately in Associated Charities, was affected at a meeting of 56 women at the city hall the previous afternoon.

Have you ever observed how many persons will set their watches by the Wettengel & Wettengel clock trade mark painted in gold letters on an upper window of the First National Bank-bldg? If you are addicted to that habit, you are always late, for it is always the eleventh hour. "Don't Wait Until the Eleventh Hour."

Here's a challenge to you sport writers. Before you begin picking out your All-Wisconsin college teams, look over the following list: Dells of Wisconsin, R. E.; Landing of Marquette, R. Let us assure you that the aforementioned fullback has "some kick."
Now let's see what you high school teams can do with an All-Wisconsin high school team.

Uncle Sam Is Better Farmer Than Some Think

Washington, D. C. — Much of the financial distress from which farmers have suffered in the last two or three years is believed by some of the government experts at Washington to be due to a lack of scientific management of farms. The obvious answer to such a statement would be that government experts sitting behind mahogany desks at the national capital are not entitled to criticize the farmer working from sunup to sundown in the fields. The report of the government expert to that is that if the farmer will try the scientific methods prescribed he will not have to work so hard and will get more from his labor. The farmer is necessarily a skillful man. The shoemaker has only to know how to make shoes, but the farmer must have a vast variety of lore about seed, soil, cultivation, and weather. The government specialists admit that the farmer is a wise man but say that he often fails to organize his wisdom properly. Many counties throughout the country now have agents who are half federal and half state employees. These men are the same type of experts as those sitting behind the mahogany desks at Washington, but they are placed in the country where they can impart their advice directly to the farmers through personal contact. In many sections these agents have not been popular. The farmers have declared that they have been tilling their acres for years and that their fathers before them did so. How can an upstart government expert from the agricultural college teach them anything? That is just the trouble, the experts say. The farmers have been following in the footsteps of their fathers for too many years. The old methods were good when they were introduced, but the land changes with cultivation, generation after generation, and requires new and improved ways. Here is a perfect example of what the government expert does if the farmer will give him a chance. The facts are authentic and can be verified. A man in a southern state purchased a farm given largely to dairymen. With the farm he took over 105 milk cows. COWS MONEY LOSERS—The farm was located not far from a large city and presumably the dairy end of the farm should have been a large one. The county agent called and asked the owner how he was getting along. He said he was doing pretty well, save that the dairy was not paying. Asked what the trouble was the farmer explained that the milkmen were not properly organized and were not getting enough money for their milk. The agent asked him if he had tested the output of his cows. To be sure, he said. He knew exactly how much his cows produced. But the agent asked him if he knew how much each cow produced from week to week. The owner had never thought of that. At the agent's suggestion, the farmer bought a scale and at each milking weighed the amount of milk given by each cow. At the end of the month he added up the totals and ascertained how many pounds of milk each cow in his dairy had produced. He knew what he received in payment for his milk and he knew what it cost him to feed his herd of cows. The total of the cost of

Who put the cat in the canary's cage?
One day lately on a train Buffalo bound, the writer saw sitting opposite an extremely thin man of 60 wearing a brand new vividly striped suit that had been designed and made for a stout heavy boy of 17.
It was the realization of this mistake in selling that lead to this article.
Rather than make a sale—we'll miss it before we send you out of this store a discredit to our label.

feeding the cows, divided by the number of cows, gave him the cost of each cow.
This information and this calculation showed the farmer that out of his herd of 105 cows, only four were giving enough milk to pay more than the cost of the herd. On 101 cows the dairyman lost money every day. It would have been better for him to give away the 101 cows and keep only four than to maintain the whole herd. One hundred and one cows were guests on the farm, eating more than they paid in return. This information stunned the dairyman. He was appalled at his losses. He then consulted the county agent on how to pick and choose cows. The agent explained to him the type of cow which gives the most milk. As rapidly as possible, the dairyman sold his guest cows to the butcher for meat and bought cows of the right type. By the time he had replaced the 101 guests with with 101 cows who paid their way, his profits had reached $1,000 a month.
LOSS TURNED TO PROFIT
By the assistance and advice received free of charge from the county agent, this farmer had charged a loss into a large profit. It cost no more to feed or tend the milk-giving cows and he got no higher price for the product. He turned a dismal loss into a big profit simply by admitting that the government expert from the college knew more than he did. This example is merely typical. The general experience is that farmers are not maintaining their land properly or are not selecting their crops or livestock properly to get the most out of their farms. At the forthcoming session of congress many new measures are expected to be presented for legislation to relieve the farmer.

Q. Was Thanksgiving ever celebrated on December 7th? J. T.
A. In 1565, Thanksgiving was celebrated on that day. Previous to 1564, the times of Thanksgiving Day had varied often. In 1564, President Lincoln ordered a Day of Thanksgiving, the 6th of August, on account of the Battle of Gettysburg, and Thanksgiving of a Day of Thanksgiving on the 25th of November of the same year. In 1863, after the death of Lincoln, no proclamation was made until a special delegation from the First Congressional Church of Washington, D. C., waited upon President Johnson, to ask him to appoint a day of Thanksgiving. He appointed December 7, 1863. Since this time Thanksgiving has been observed on the last Thursday in November.
Q. I had a discussion with a person about the word "chick." Please publish the proper pronunciation. F. Y. H.
A. It is pronounced as if the word were spelled "sheek." It is a common error in America to use the same pronunciation as that for the diminutive chicken.
Q. What is the office of Lord Rector of a university? J. B.
A. The title corresponds to that of president of a university. It was used in our colonial universities and was abandoned by certain New England colleges within comparatively recent years. Rudyard Kipling has lately become Lord Rector of St. Andrews, Scotland.
Q. How many canals are there in Venice? I. C. M.
A. There are 117 canals in the city of Venice. They measure 23 miles. There are five openings in a 36 foot masonry wall, which admit the tide. The Grand Canal is two miles long and 77 yards wide. It was probably at one time the bed of a river flowing into the lagoon near Mestre. Another canal divides the island of Giudecca from the rest of the city. It was once the bed of the Brenta. The smaller canals serve as arteries to the Grand Canal.

ARREST SHAWANO MAN FOR ROBBERY OF MEDINA DEPOT

Appleton Man Implicates Companion In Village Burglary

Robbery of the Chicago, Northwest ern depot and the Ransom warehouse at Medina, was cleaned up Friday with the arrest here of Jesse Quayle. Shawano, said to be on parole following a robbery at Waupaca some months ago. Quayle was arraigned in municipal court here on Friday and was bound over for trial. Bail was fixed at $1,500 and he was held in jail, when he was unable to provide the bond.

Quayle's arrest is said to have resulted from a confession secured from Nicholas Eckes, 26, Outagamie-st. Eckes was taken into custody by Sheriff Otto Zuehlke and undersheriff Walter Scherck and was lodged in jail. He is said to have implicated Quayle in the alleged robberies. Eckes denies he entered the building. He was held in jail only a short time and now is at liberty.

DENY P. O. ROBBERY

Both Quayle and Eckes deny burglarizing the Medina postoffice which also was entered on Nov. 19, the same night that the warehouse and the depot were robbed.

Sheriff Zuehlke has been on Quayle's trail since Eckes was taken into custody. Friday Mr. Scherck went to Shawano after the man but when he reached Shawano he learned Quayle was in Appleton. He telephoned Sheriff Zuehlke where Quayle could be found and he was placed under arrest. Quayle is said to have admitted breaking into the depot and the warehouse.

ON THE SCREEN

"THE BARGAIN" IS HART'S FAVORITE

It is easy to understand why William S. Hart has become the leading actor on the screen after one has seen "The Bargain," which will be shown at the New Bijou Sunday. In it he shows acting ability which would have made him a star in any other style of picture, but added to that he displays a horsemanship and a skill with guns which make him unequalled in the type of story he chose for his screen career.

There is a surprising twist in the story of "The Bargain," in which William S. Hart is starred, that is startling and surprising. The fan who expects the western hero always to be triumphant are due for a shock but to others who like tenderness and naturalness "The Bargain" will be a treat.

EVEN HER SMILE WILL THRILL YOU

In "Called to Account," the eleventh episode of "Haunted Valley," the new Pathescope starring Ruth Roland at the New Bijou Theatre Sunday, many new and surprising elements enter the story. Due to the lies of Mallinson, Ruth believes her sweetheart, Craig, guilty of treachery but that young man on the other hand, determines to win out and is aided in his scheme by a clever newspaper reporter. Toward the end of the chapter a number of mysterious characters are introduced and a plot is hatched to prevent Ruth's marriage to Mallinson. This intrigue is performed in a very surprising manner, with the mysterious strangers playing a big part.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

William Russell, thoroughly at home in a wide number of roles, will be seen at the Elite Theatre Sunday in his latest William Fox production, "Times Have Changed," an attraction belated out great promise for entertainment.

As the title indicates, Russell's latest effort contrasts yesterday with today. The result, according to comment elsewhere, is highly amusing. Mabel Julienne Scott and Alene Ray support the star.

FAMOUS FLAPPER MAKES FILM BOW

The most famous flapper of modern fiction steps from the pages of Warner Fabian's sensational "best seller" to the screen in the person of a young little Colleen Moore at the Elite Theatre next week Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Moore has the featured role of Patricia Fenitiss in "Flaming Youth," the first National superproduction filmed under the direction of John Francis Dillon.

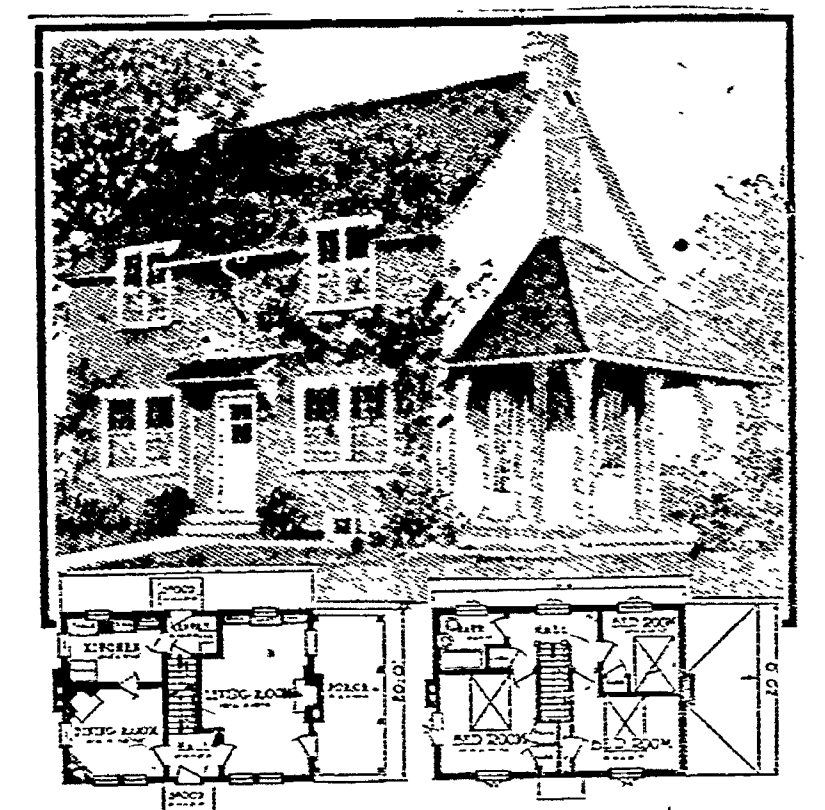

As little Pat, Colleen essays the role of a naive young flapper whose career is one frivolous love affair after another. Pat, to use the phraseology of her own set, is a terrible "necker" and King Jazz is her god, as it is to most of her associates. Conventions simply don't belong in her code. But she has an awakening, and it comes in a most dramatic and romantic way.

Milton Sills as Carey Scott has the leading male role opposite Colleen, while Myrtle Stegman is to be seen as the beautiful, indulgent mother of three daughters of the world of jazz, of whom Pat is the youngest.

Others who play important roles are Elliott Dexter, Sylvia Breamer, Betty Francisco, Ben Lyon, Walter McGrath, George Barrand and John Patrick.

Christmas Bazaar and Cafeteria Dinner and Supper, Dec. 12th at the Congregational Church.

"Just Right" Size Home Can Be Built For $6,580

THIS HOME DESIGNED BY THE CURTIS SERVICE BUREAU OF CLINTON, IA.

Six rooms is an ideal size house for most average families, and leads other sizes in popular demand. So this good looking house is of special interest. The foundations are only 29 feet wide and 29 feet in depth—really a small house—and yet there are six livable rooms, an entrance hall, bath, and rear entry which is within the rectangle of the house. Many built-in features help to conserve space, making the house wonderfully convenient as well.

The formal entrance assures privacy for the living porch at the side. The entrance opens upon a small vestibule, with a straight boxed stair. A vestibule, however small, is a great protection to the living rooms in cold weather, and enables one to economize on fuel bills by completely shutting off the unused rooms.

FIREPLACE

The living room occupies the entire right side of the first floor—or the left, if your lot requires reversing the plans. There is a fireplace on the outside long wall, at one side of it a glazed door leading to the porch. Just opposite the fireplace is a jog in the room wall, forming an alcove that is full of suggestions for furniture groups. At the back of the room, surrounding the window overlooking the garden, is a room-end of bookcases and window seat, forming a most inviting corner.

At the front on the other side of the hall is the cozy, cheerful dining

LAND TAXING PLAN OF U. S. EXPLAINED

Purchasers of land who are puzzled over the right to deduct from their federal income tax the cost of razing buildings on the property are told the proper construction of this clause of the law in a recent issue of the Internal Revenue bulletin.

The bureau makes it necessary to determine whether the land was purchased for the profit to be obtained from rental of buildings, or whether it is bought with the specific purpose of razing the buildings and erecting others.

In the first instance, if it can be shown that the buildings did not rent as anticipated and are torn down and replaced by others so as to make a profit, the revenue bureau declares "that the land and buildings might be treated as two separate and compo-

OTHER FELLOW IS TO BE CONSIDERED IN TRADE SUCCESS

Corbett Points Out Industry Essentials In Talk At Y. M. C. A. Forum

Money, men and materials, commonly called the three chief requirements of business, are not the only factors which make for its success, Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, declared in a talk on "The Essentials of Industry" at the industrial forum meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening.

"It might better be said that the man with money, the manager, the worker and the public are the requisites of a sound industry," said Mr. Corbett. "There is many a business that possesses money, men and materials, yet it is a failure."

DON'T COOPERATE

The speakers described four groups, the laborers, the stockholders in industry, the distributors and the producers, each of whom worked for the strength of his organization but failed to take the interests of the other into consideration in any policy it adopted.

There is need for some way to bring about coordination and cooperation of these bodies, he said. In order to secure an essential of business success is service above self.

The statement of a committee that every citizen is entitled to a public good is not entirely true, Mr. Corbett remarked. The vastness of new articles and their needs, but at first the public must want them. It is the distributor, the salesman, who educates the people to their value after which they are adopted in common usage. The salesman is a greater educator

LIVE LIKE KINGS

Only 5 per cent of the people of the world live in the United States, yet our people live better and have more conveniences than those of any other country, the forum was told. People of America have more comforts and luxuries than kings ever had in bygone days through the manufacture and sale of various commodities here.

America leads in the translation of national resources of the world into forms of human service, Mr. Corbett said, and quoted figures to show how this was true. He mentioned the paper industry, the great indicator of the dissemination of information and knowledge. This country produces 43 per cent and consumes 50 per cent of the world total. He also showed how industries are increasing their annual output and how the laboring man also is increasing his production.

"The crowning example of this process shows in the automobile industry," he declared, "where in less than ten years the annual output of one and one-half cars has risen to an average of over four cars per worker employed. Increases in wages have kept pace with this development. Earnings per worker show average increases of 100, 200 and 300 per cent during the progress of this industrial development."

This is the most striking picture to come out of Germany so far as the food scarcity is concerned. fertilizer even at a loss to the government, that it was in the same class as postal service or anything else now operated by the government. But no plan for government operation could successfully run the gamut of opposition in congress as long as any private offer remained untried. A sincere effort will therefore be made to get together with Henry Ford on Muscle Shoals. Out of the whole discussion the hope is that something constructive may be worked out which will give the American farmer a cheap fertilizer.

Incidentally, while talking with Mr. Wallace Friday he told this correspondent he was in sympathy with the program of taxation proposed by Secretary Mellon and that the editorialists in Wallace's "Farmer" were not inspired by him but were an independent expression of opinion by his editors. He pointed out that the editorial in question, however, had referred only to one detail of the Mellon plan—the continuance of luxury taxes. Mr. Wallace said that when he came to Washington he made it a point to divorce himself from his farm papers so that the public would not construe his editorial as inspired or influenced by him in any way.

MATHEWS ASSURED BIG AUDIENCE AT CHAPEL ON SUNDAY

Appleton People Eager To Again
Hear Noted Chicago
Divine

Most of the people who heard Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean of Chicago University School of Divinity, when he spoke here in 1922, are eager to hear him again next Sunday evening when he speaks in Lawrence Memorial chapel on "The Rising Generation and Its Moral Tasks." Dean Mathews is fifth speaker on the People's forum program.

Dean Mathews not only is an eloquent and convincing speaker, but he is a friend of the student body here. He has been connected with the school of divinity for many years and has had ample opportunity to study the young generation and its problems. He has worked with thousands of young men preparing for the ministry and has had wide contact with other groups of young people.

MUSICAL PROGRAM
Sunday night's musical program, beginning at 8:30, Dean Mathews will speak at 9 o'clock.

No admission is charged for forum meetings but a collection is taken to defray expenses. It is pointed out by the committee in charge of the forum that the customary charge for hearing a speaker of Dean Mathews' reputation and ability is never less than a dollar, but in Appleton the opportunity is offered free. It is suggested, however, that those who hear the lecture should contribute as possible with their donations. Because collections at previous meetings this year have so far averaged $35, which is the average cost of the meetings, the forum is facing a deficit unless more money is taken in. It is suggested that every person in the chapel drop at least a half dollar in the collection box when it is passed Sunday night.

Heavy Demand For Tickets For Community Artist Series

Only a limited number of tickets still are available for the concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, according to Carl J. Wierman, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, in charge of arrangements here for Appleton Community Artist Series. The concert will be the second of four numbers in the series.

Neenah music lovers have reserved 150 seats for the concert and large numbers of reservations are being received from other cities. Saturday morning less than 400 tickets were left for distribution, indicating that the orchestra will play to a capacity house.

FOUNDED IN 1891

DETERMINE FATE OF VALLEY MILL GROUP

Whether the Fox River Valley Industrial Relations association will continue in existence will be determined on Monday evening, Dec. 10, when the first meeting of the organization is to be held in Conway hotel. There is to be a dinner and vaudeville program but no speaker has been arranged for.

The industrial relations association, composed of employers of the Fox river valley, was organized two or three years ago to hold periodical meetings for discussion of employment problems. Several noted speakers were brought to the valley by the organization. Most of the meetings last year were held in Appleton because of its central location.

It will be definitely determined on Dec. 10 whether the meetings are to be resumed this winter.

Following the death of Director Thomas and after consideration of all the greatest orchestra directors in the world.

The orchestra's full membership is 22 musicians. For the first 14 years of its existence it was known as the Chicago orchestra, then for seven years it was the Theodore Thomas orchestra and now it is the "Chicago Symphony orchestra, founded by Theodore Thomas."

Lady Cops Help Girls At Capital

Washington—Police chiefs of other cities may get a good tip out of this city's police department.

It concerns the inauguration of a woman's service, conducted solely by women for the protection of women.

It's success is assured by the woman who has made this new angle of police work possible. She is Lieutenant Van Winkle, of Mrs. Mina Van Winkle in private life.

Lieutenant Van Winkle has built up a woman police force in this city on which not only she, but the whole community, is proud. That's because of the unusual average intelligence of her staff, she says. Every member of her force has had to show educational qualifications above the requirements for men on the same police force.

The graduate nurse, Lieutenant Van Winkle finds, makes the ideal policewoman.

NOT LIKE COPS

The women learn the use of fire-arms, and some carry pistols. They wear no uniforms. Neither do they swing night sticks. Their duties, Mrs. Van Winkle explains, mostly concern women.

"One woman in my department is detailed solely to the work of finding missing persons," she says. "She's an expert at it—last year she uncovered 364 who were lost, strayed or stolen."

"Two more are detailed to watch railroad stations for runaways."

"Others visit picture houses and public dance halls and they're instructed to disperse children who should be at home in bed, if it's night time, or in school, if it's day."

CRANKS AND SUCH

"Still others have to take care of the cranks who come to Washington to talk over their private troubles with the president. One of these wanted Mr. Coolidge to find a publisher for her latest song: 'Too Much Good Material Going to the Graveyard.'"

"Another insisted that she had been in telegraphic communication with President Wilson during the war and now would like to discuss personally the League of Nations with him."

Readjusting delinquent girls to their proper sphere is the main aim of the policewoman. They do anything that is morally, physically and financially beneficial to girls, including buying them the right kind of clothes, introducing them into decent society and establishing church connections.

For a new form of partnership is in contemplation by Attorney William Hyman of Ft. Thomas, Ky., and Attorney Rebekah M. Paritz of this city. They are to be married soon and at the same time become partners in the practice of law, constituting the first husband-and-wife law partnership in Ohio.

Miss Paritz was admitted to the Ohio bar two years ago and is now assistant librarian in the Hamilton county law library. Her fiancé has been practicing five years.

Few Simple Exercises Help To Master Dance

ARTHUR MURRAY'S PARTNER, AILEEN MEEHAN, DEMONSTRATES THE PROPER STEP FOR WOMEN—AS LONG AS POSSIBLE, WITH TOE POINTING BACKWARD.

BY ARTHUR MURRAY
Director, National Institute of Social Dancing.

Before teaching people to do the actual steps in a dance like the fox trot, I first give them a series of exercises. These exercises are the basis for infinite ballroom steps and consist of movements which at first may seem entirely foreign to the ballroom dance. The object of the exercises is to train the muscles which are used in dancing.

After the pupil has brought the required muscles under control, it is a simple matter to learn the details of the dance. In most instances the pupil is capable of following her partner immediately after learning the exercises, which, by the way, bear a close relationship to physical culture exercises.

In my experience with teaching social dancing by giving a series of exercises, I have found that many of these exercises, in addition to teaching the person to dance, also serve as aids in developing the figure to the ideal form. That these exercises also make one graceful, goes without saying.

Let us now consider some of these exercises in relation to these dancing steps for which they constitute the logical preparation, and for which they develop the coordination and technique necessary if one would do these dances well.

In following it is essential for the girl to dance so that her feet will always be out of reach of her partner's and at the same time she must dance with ease and without pulling away from him. The secret of know-

TO SERVE WITH SALAD
Many hostesses like to serve the salad just before the main course of meat and vegetables rather than after it.

A vegetable or fish salad is very acceptable right after the soup, but a fruit salad seems to give a better balance to the meal if it follows the main course.

In any event a salad course properly served includes a water or something of the sort with the salad itself. The accompaniment may be served on the plate with the salad or on a large plate, each person helping himself.

These little tidbits may be used with a fruit, vegetable or head lettuce salad which does not gain its piquancy from cheese.

CHEESE CRACKERS
Four tablespoons grated American full cream cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons soft bread crumbs, 1-4 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon minced sweet pepper, few grains sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, paprika, squares of bread.

Cut bread not more than three-eighths of an inch thick. Cut off crusts and cut in two-inch squares. Toast quickly. Mix cheese, butter, bread crumbs, pepper, mustard, vinegar, sugar and salt to a smooth paste. Spread on toasted squares, dust with paprika and put in a hot oven to melt the cheese. Serve at once.

CHEESE CUPS
Bread 24 hours old, cheese, melted butter.

Cut bread in slices two inches thick. Cut in small rounds with an open top, small center. Hollow out a tiny cup-shaped depression in one end of each round of bread. Dip in melted butter, fill depression with grated cheese and put in a hot oven to melt the cheese and slightly brown the bread. Dust lightly with paprika before sending to the table. Cheese cups are served on the plate.

How To Use Candles To Adorn Room

Until the time when gas and electric light took the place of candles many a woman was her own candle maker. During the last few years candles have become popular again for table illumination. To use in Cornwellian and Jacobean rooms there are hand-made candles which are replicas of the taper candles used in olden days, while with modern rooms candles can often be used to introduce just the right color note on mantelpiece or dining table. In fact, women frequently take a piece of the material used for hangings or covers to the shop in order to choose candles to match the shade of some flower or motif appearing in the design.

It is not a difficult matter to get just the tint desired. These hand-made candles are scented with the essence of some special berry and when snuffed out leave a delicious odor. They are made by Eskimos in the graceful taper shape and are found in all sizes from six inches to 30 inches high. In bright red these giant candles look very well in carved gilt wood Italian candlesticks.

The colors include every imaginable shade of rose and pink, lovely deep orange, daffodil and other yellow, and the most exquisite blues, as well as gold and silver and black. In white cut glass holders black candles look beautiful. As they are used so much in a decorative way in daytime it is satisfactory to hear that these new candles do not bend with the heat, tipped with silver or gold. Another notion is seen in some gray candles with the top decorated with blue and silver wax looking as though it had trickled down.

A charming design has the base moulded like the petals of a rose and tipped with silver or gold. Another notion is seen in some gray candles with the top decorated with blue and silver wax looking as though it had trickled down.

There are some very interesting hand-made and hand-decorated candles. Some of them in bright green or orange are painted with little bands or sprays of flowers in the peasant colors, and novel square candles in matrix blue have trails of tiny scarlet flowers on them. Others have an uneven rough-cast in black and gold.

Walking backward
For the lady there are two ways of dancing backward: the ordinary way is simply to walk backward, but the good dancer does more than that; when she places her foot in back, she does it in such a way that it looks pretty and it will not be stepped upon.

Place the feet in what is called the first position in dancing: the heels together and toes turned out. Move the right foot as far backward as it will go and at the same time stretch the toes well back so that only the front tip of the foot touches the floor. There should be a straight line from the hip to the big toe. Now bring the foot back to the first position. Repeat the same exercises with the other foot.

PARTNER A PUZZLE

This may be done to one-step music.

"I could do the steps if I only knew what my partner would do next. How can I know?" I have been asked this question almost a million times and always I think of the time I asked a doctor to cure my cold. He replied that if he knew how he would surely cure his own. So it is with a man's dancing; he himself often does not know what step he will do next, and, of course, the long-suffering partner must follow. The poor girl who has no choice in the matter can do but one thing: she must train her feet all things to be ready for whatever steps the man takes a notion to do.

Mr. Murray explains the new American tango in his next article.

CHEESE SQUARES

One cup soft cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons soft bread crumbs, 1-4 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 teaspoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon minced sweet pepper, few grains sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, paprika, squares of bread.

Cut bread not more than three-eighths of an inch thick. Cut off crusts and cut in two-inch squares. Toast quickly. Mix cheese, butter, bread crumbs, pepper, mustard, vinegar, sugar and salt to a smooth paste. Spread on toasted squares, dust with paprika and put in a hot oven to melt the cheese. Serve at once.

Modern woman seeks the fur jacquette for her winter's street wear. They come in beige, tan brown and gray, caracul and in natural squirrel.

POMPADOUR RETURNS!

What's to Become of Bobbed Hair?

Excelsior Springs, Mo.—The pompadour is coming back.

Not the old-fashioned one that called for a big roll in the hair—but the roll that carries part of the coiffure down over the forehead, somewhat like the pompadour of the late nineties.

Members of the Missouri State Hairdressers' Association, at a meeting here recently, stood sponsor for the new pompadour. Models were brought before the hairdressers and the new mode of doing the hair demonstrated.

American Woman Is More Conscious Than Before Of Foot Beauty

Experts Differ As To Effect Of French Heels On Health—Tearing Out More Harmful To Feet Than Shoes Themselves

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—Word comes from the University of Oregon that the fair people of that institution work better, think better, and get better grades when they improve their feet. And, as though this were not enough to keep our attention riveted close to the sidewalk, a thousand dollar contest has recently been announced for the purpose of discovering the most beautiful feminine feet in the national capital. Truly female America is becoming conscious of its feet as never before.

The discovery, by American women of their feet may well rank with modern woman's similar discovery of her head and business ability. Just as the pen is mightier than the sword, so beautiful feet may become more powerful weapons against men than a college education. For this reason, American women must be credited with psychological discovery, whereas Columbus only made a geographical one.

In ancient times, women were fully aware of the power of their feet. Queen Zenobia, who ruled the beautiful Eastern city of Palmyra in the reign of the Roman emperor Aurelian, devised a method of calling attention to her beautiful feet that might well be followed by some enterprising society leaders of today. There was a lovely, Indian princess, named Sindarina, who had the misfortune to be captured by Zenobia. Thereupon the queen, who had doubtless received many previous compliments on her feet, decided that she would support them, on state occasions, upon an embroidered silken cushion. This plan worked splendidly for a long while, and is said to have done as much for Palmyra's feet as the Washington contest is now doing for those of the capital.

But Sindarina didn't altogether like the idea, since the publicity was all for Zenobia's beauty rather than for her own. So when Aurelian came over with a Roman army to attack Palmyra, the beautiful Indian slave girl betrayed Zenobia into his hands.

Few women of the last decade realized the value of their feet. Shoes were built for protection and ornament, rather than for revelation. But all that has changed. During the past ten years beautiful feet have been emerging from their concealment. Strapped slippers, cutaway shoes, and sandals have gradually come into their own, and the woman who, today, is ashamed of her feet is out of luck.

DANCER, SCULPTOR DISAGREE

Miss Gladys Walton, well-known American dancer, claims that American girls have the prettiest feet in the world. George Julian Zolnay, Washington sculptor, however, hardly agrees with her. Mr. Zolnay says

SNAKES FAVORITE HOUSEHOLD PETS

Dr. Howard A. Kelly Has Caught Thousands And Was Bitten By Many

Baltimore—Surgery, radium and—snakes!

Dr. Howard A. Kelly, world-famous surgeon and probably the foremost authority on radium in America, is a lover of snakes. He has caught thousands, over a period of 42 years, and has been bitten by every variety of poisonous reptile on the continent.

Snakes take the place of dogs and cats in Dr. Kelly's household. A dozen roam at liberty through his four-story residence and rats and mice are unknown. He houses a seven-foot Coluber Constrictor, or Highland Boa-ksake, to dispose of the larger rodents and several Florida Corn Snakes make short shift of mice.

Recently the doctor was heartbroken when he discovered a King Snake had wandered from his half-wick in the dining room and made breakfast of a Hog Nosed Viper, in the pantry.

Dr. Kelly is a charter member of a national society for the protection of reptiles. Yearly he makes auto excursions to Baltimore's outskirts to repopulate snakes on Baltimore county farms. They are indispensable in diminishing rodents, he said, but he has yet to receive thanks from the farmers.

Recently Dr. Kelly returned from a camping vacation in Canada, where he had made a vain search for a specimen of Stereria Occipitocaulata. A few days before his return he shot a large hawk and as the bird fell it vomited forth a specimen of the rare reptile.

Dr. Kelly insists the venom of reptiles is greatly exaggerated. Last year, in Florida, he was bitten by a Copperhead and a companion was the victim of a Rattlesnake. Both recovered but the doctor admits he suffered for six weeks.

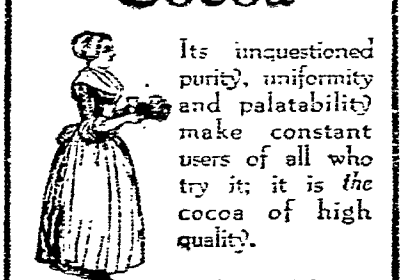

Asked whether Mrs. Kelly objected to reptiles, a hop-skip-and-jump over her carpets, Dr. Kelly replied she had cared for the collection of "pets" during his vacation, and all seemed fat and happy upon his return.

feet feet, both in form and muscular strength, as can be attained in this age of the automobile. Surely every young woman can find some vacation, if not a sand dune or a river bank, where she can shed shoes and stockings, and give her feet a chance! Besides, there is the alluring possibility that some stray newspaper photographer might happen along and make those beautiful feet immortal through the magic of his camera and Sunday supplements!

DUSTY FURS

Furs worn in dusty wind or in a smoky atmosphere need to be well combed, brushed against the grain and aired quickly.

PAINTING FURNITURE

Before attempting to paint any furniture, remove the knobs and handles or any fancy additions, and you will do a much neater job.

POT COVERS

When the knob comes off the tin cover, run a screw from the under side of the cover and screw a large cork on top of the cover.

INSECT POWDER

Roach sprinkled freely in all cracks and crevices around the sink and the baseboards near it is most satisfactory in keeping out roaches or water bugs.

Experts Arrange Meet
With Green Bay Stars

Eugene Carr And His Protege,
Harold Pindle, Meet Pair Of State's Best Cue Artists

BOWLING

With the opening of the bowling season comes the announcement that a 3-cushion tournament has been arranged between a team of Green Bay's major stars, Roy Engels and Roy Flint, and an Appleton team consisting of Harold Pindle, state champion in pocket billiards, and his veteran manager, Eugene Carr. These experts will shoot a 150 point match in blocks of 50 points, beginning with a game at Green Bay, Wednesday, Dec. 5. The second block will be played at the Carr and Hanson billiard parlors here, Dec. 12, and the winner in the first 100 points will have the choice of where the final block is to be held.

The Green Bay representatives are prominent businessmen in their home town, who have played in some of the biggest tournaments of the state and middle west. Engels is especially expert at his favorite game, which he proved by taking second place in the 3-cushion tournament at Chicago two years ago, in which some of the best players of the country were entered. Last year he defeated Pindle by a narrow margin in 150 points at a 3-cushion billiards, taking the first two blocks by a few points and losing the third, when Pindle staged a brilliant comeback. Eugene Carr and Pindle, another of Appleton's foremost amateur cue stars, started a similar tourney with Flint and Engels, which, however, was never completed, owing to the fact that Dr. Douglas became ill and the match had to be called off.

Pindle had been practicing daily to get his hand into the 3-cushion game, and promises to grow quite as efficient at it as he is in the simpler pocket billiard game. Runs eight and nine are growing to be the regular ones in his practice games, but Engels' formidable record promises him a hard contest. Eugene Carr and Roy Flint are both old, experienced players, worthy to shoot at the side of the two stars. They are about evenly matched also, and the two teams are considered to have an even chance.

The Green Bay game will be played at the Elks club parlors here, and will start at 8 P. M. while the local game will be shot at the Carr and Hanson parlors, and will start at the same time. Admission will be free.

Western Conference Magnates Meet Friday And Saturday At Chicago

Chicago—Athletic directors, coaches and faculty representatives of the western conference met here on Friday and Saturday to draw up athletic schedules and to consider problems that have arisen in the Big Ten since their last assembly.

Determination of football schedules for 1924 holds the greatest interest. Talk of changed schedules with Michigan and Illinois meeting, and of possible intercollegiate contests with Chicago playing an eastern or western team and Ohio meeting Pennsylvania is heard.

The meeting is to be asked to consider the case of E. C. Gerber, Wisconsin tackle, disqualified because of his T. M. C. A. activities, according to word from Madison.

Thursday's meeting will be devoted to a discussion of conference problems and angles before the gathering to arrange schedules is held on Friday. Beside football, basketball, track, swimming and wrestling schedules are to be decided upon.

Conference representatives are to vote on the proposed rule which would ban migrant players from Big Ten teams.

COPS CHAMPIONSHIP

Midwest Sailors Beat Eastern
Gobs. 19 To 10, In Hard Battle

Great Lakes, Ill.—The Great Lakes football team won the national championship, defeating Hampton Roads training station, 19 to 10, in a hard played game on a muddy field at Great Lakes.

The midwest sailors came from behind to win in the first half. Lewis of the invaders kicked a field goal, while the Great Lakes guard scored a touchdown when Wright blocked a Hampton Roads punt and fell on the ball behind the goal line.

In the second half Hampton Roads scored its touchdown for a lead again, but the Great Lakes boys came back with two touchdowns for the victory.

Beaudry, Wright and Penrod led the Great Lakes team to victory. Lewis, Warren and Starnard were the stars of the losing eleven.

Fighting Parson Puts Milwaukee Man To Sleep In Fifth Stanza

Fond du Lac—Roy Conley, fighting parson, knocked out Jack Monahan of Milwaukee in the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout before a crowd of fight fans here Friday night. Monahan was no match for Conley and made the mistake of hitting the parson at his own game. Monahan was hanging on the ropes when the bell saved him in the fourth. In the fifth, after Conley had punished him severely, Monahan walked into a button buster that hurled him into the ropes and sent him wandering around the ring in a daze. Referee Jaeger stopped the fight. In the semifinal Joey Doyle of Racine quit cold in the fifth round of his eight round bout with Jack Lanza of Oshkosh. Doyle left the ring declaring he was too tired to continue.

Battling Herb of Oshkosh, pecked George Peck of Racine in the eye in the first round of a six round bout, causing the Racine pug to see double. The fight was stopped when Peck collapsed in the ropes. Barney Roddy of Milwaukee shaded Johnny Stevens of Oshkosh in a six round opener.
